

BRING OUT THE GENTLEMAN

Gentleman's Collection – Red Blend

If ever there was a gentleman of the winemaking world it was Dr. Henry J. Lindeman. He knew a thing or two about living a fine life, so you would be wise to pay attention.

In 1843, Dr Lindeman, an upstanding man of formidable character, started his own winery. In doing so, he set his sights on civilising a colony of hard-drinking ruffians by introducing them to more gentlemanly pursuits, such as the enjoyment of a refined drop. This longheld tradition continues today with this distinguished wine rich with dark cherries and black currant flavours, and fresh toasted oak lift and smooth finish. An excellent wine to be savoured.

Winemaker Comments Paul Milton

Grape Variety: Red Blend

Maturation: Stainless tanks to retain fruit purity and freshness

Colour: Vibrant dark purple with garnet hues

Nose: A riot of lifted dark cherries, plum and toasty chocolate.

Palate: A full bodied wine with a generous mid palate interwoven with ripe plums, liquorice and dark spice. Soft with a lingering and satisfying aftertaste that makes this wine immediately approachable.

Vineyard Region: South Eastern Australia

Peak Drinking: Best enjoyed young & fresh. Drink now

Food Match: Enjoy with pasta, red meat dishes or cheese
